Radarsign™ Partners with Wisconsin-Based Decker Supply

Decker Supply's School-Zone Safety Offering Now Includes the World's First Armored Driver Feedback Sign From Radarsign

ALPHARETTA, GA., Sept. 13, 2011—A shared focus to provide traffic-calming solutions to slow speeding drivers and make school zones safer is the foundation for a partnership between Radarsign™—the manufacturer of the world's first armored driver feedback sign—and Decker Supply.

An operating agreement gives Madison, Wisc.-based Decker Supply rights of distribution for Radarsign's traffic-calming products in the state of Wisconsin, which has more than 2,280 public schools serving almost 880,000 students.

"Radarsign has long been connected with efforts to slow speeding drivers in an around school zones," says Charlie Robeson, Radarsign co-founder and Director of Sales and Marketing. "Decker Supply's leadership in this arena—and relationships with community and educational leaders who have been very receptive to Radarsign's products—make this partnership especially attractive. We are pleased to have such a visible presence in Wisconsin, now."

About Radarsign

In 2004, Atlanta-based Radarsign™ established new industry standards for traffic-calming solutions with the debut of the world's first armored driver feedback signs, which are vandal, weather and bullet-resistant. The industry's most durable radar signs are also the most ecological and energy efficient. Engineered and manufactured in the USA, Radarsign products are MUTCD-compliant and utilize recycled aluminum, innovative LED reflector technology, minimal battery power and solar panels to deliver bright, easy-to-read feedback to drivers. Radarsign products are scientifically proven to reduce drivers' speeds and has been entrusted to provide safe and effective traffic-calming solutions for: municipalities, treasured national parks, schools, neighborhoods, military bases, and private and public development projects across the U.S., Canada and overseas. www.Radarsign.com.
